disturbed and unrefreshing sleep, constant, indescribable feeling of dread, or of impending calamity?

If you have all, or any considerable number of these symptoms, you are suffering from that most common of American maladies—Billious Dyspepsia, or Torpid Liver, associated with Dyspepsia, or Indigestion. The more complicated your disease has become, the greater the number and diversity of symptoms. No matter what stage it has reached, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will subdue it, if taken according to directions for a reasonable length of time. If not cured, complications multiply and Consumption of the Lungs, Skin Disease, Heart Disease, Rheumatism, Kidney Disease, or other grave maladies are quite liable to set in and, sooner or later, induce a fatal termination.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery acts powerfully upon the Liver, and through that great blood-purifying organ, cleanses the system of all blood-taints and impurities, from whatever cause arising. It is equally officacious in acting upon the Kidneys, and other excretory organs, cleansing, strengthening, and healing their diseases. As an appetizing, restorative tonic, it promotes digestion and nutrition, thereby building up both flesh and strength. In malarial districts, this wonderful medicine has grained great celebrity in curing Fever and Ague, Chills and Fever, Dumb Ague, and kindred diseases.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery CILEES ALL HUMORS.

CURES ALL HUMORS, from a common Blotch, or Kruption, to the worst Scrofula. CONSUMPTION,

IN FASHION'S DOMAINS.

Considerable opposition has been made by fashion leaders to the reviving mode of matching the various parts of mode of matching the various parts of the toilet, but the current has fairly set in in the direction of this elegant but rather expensive fashion. Matched toilets in all shades of golden brown, new terracotta, russet, olive, and many shades of gray are already being pre-pared for the autumn by Parisian de-signers. Like most other fashions. signers. Like most other fashions matching a suit entire from head t foot will be the privilege and luxury of the few at the outset, but little by little will encroach, and finally be followed by the majority.

The rare and exquisite lace gowns which appear this summer are beautiful enough to tempt the eye and heart of the strictest Mother Superior, and they are fit for the wear of a Queen There is no danger that these superb toilets will lose their charm or popularity for seasons to come, for no sooner does the taste for certain designs and styles become the least tiresome than scores of other novel and still more beautiful devices appear, which again render them impossible to pass by without a purchase. Lace fabrics are still in the zenith of their glory, and constitute the gowns par excellence, being still first choice of all the rare dress goods now in vogue.

Very high bows of picot ribbon re-main the general fashion for trimming hats and bonnets, and the object of the milliner is to arrange these in various odd ways, such as plaited half-wheels made of tri-colored ribbons, the looped edges showing from the front instead of the entire width of the bows Forked ends and cockade bows closely tied and densely clustered form another style, and such tri-colors are chosen as salmon, goblin blue, and Roman red, rosewood, peachblow, and Persian mauve, olive, periwinkle pink, and ciel blue, and like odd combinations.

Silk warp French cashmere in exquisitely fine qualities will compose one of the very fashionable dress fabrics the coming season. Samples of new Parisian dyes and textures just forwarded to ian dyes and textures just forwarded to importers show exquisite shades of beige, golden bronze, heliotrope striped with white or silver, dark moss green crossed with lines of Roman red, dark blue figured with silver, and many beautiful dyes in monochrome. For evening wear is a list of pale, delicate tints too numerous to refer to here, and also of new artistic hues never before seen and impossible to describe.—N. Y.

CARE OF BABIES.

Iow Much Food Should Be Given to Chil-dren Under One Year of Age. This question is asked as often as any perhaps, and it were as easy to give an answer to this as it would be to tell how much, in ounces, grown people must eat. The truth is, that what is a small amount for one will be too much for some other, and the only way to get the proper amount for each will be to begin carefully and watch results it will soon be learned how much agrees, and no more than that should

Regularity in the hours of feeding must be observed, and if the baby cries, apparently for food, between these times, give it a spoonful or two of water. All drinking water must be either from a source known to be pure or else it must be boiled and cooled be-fore drinking. Cover it with muslin while cooling. To restore the fresh taste to water that has been boiled and cooled, and, consequently, is rather flat, pour a small quantity rapidly back and forth from one vessel to another, just before it is given to the child to

As nearly as any rules will answer for the amount of food to be given, the following will do: To a new born child, not nursed by the mother, give from one to three tablespoonfuls, of whatever food may be selected, for a meal. If the child does not seem satisfied, and retains the food on the stomach, the amount should be carefully increased. Vomiting would usually indicate overfeeding. As the child grows the quantity of food taken must be judiciously increased, and nothing but careful watching on the part of mother or nurse can regulate

Ordinarily, a weaned child, a year old, requires for its breakfast about half a pint of milk and a tea-saucer half full of mush. Some children will need more than this, in which case may be given a small piece of bread and but-ter, and half of a well-baked apple, if fruit agrees with the child. For the noon-day meal, a small potato, or its equivalent in mush or bread and milk, and fruit. The same amount, or less, for supper. All fruits in their season are allowed children after they are a year old, if they agree. No sweetmeats of any kind should be given. This same kind of fare should be continued with little change until the child is ten or twelve years of age, about which time the bony structure hardens. The less meat children under ten eat the etter.—Demorest's Monthly.

-Cream Pie. Line plate with paste, put on two rims and bake. Fill with cream Moisten one heaping table-spoonful cornstarch with a little cold nilk, pour into one pint boiling milk. Cook twenty minutes, add half cup sugar, one tablespoonful butter and the whites of four eggs beaten stiff.
Flavor with one teaspoonful vanilla.
Fill the paste, and brown in the oven.

WEDNESDAY EVE., SEPT. 21, 1887.

The Conference.

The preachers have come, several hundred of them, and the city is to be given over to them for a week, to do with it and its people as seemeth good to them And though the march of modern thought, the iconoclastic spirit which characterizes the times and makes us re gard one man as good as any other man so long as he behaves himself though this spirit dominates our thoughts and though modern custom has made the minister of the gospel look and dress a good deal like other people, and therefore makes him less a man of marked peculiarities, still there is something which fixes his identity and serves to bring back to the minds of those of us who were blessed with Methodist parents visions and memories of the preacher of our boyhood days. whose majestic presence on his fortnightly rounds awed the terrified youngsters into silence, and impressed them with the idea that "the preacher" was much more than a man, and that any unseemly conduct while he was around would bring down upon the offenders results altogether too horrible to contemplate. How vivid is the recollection of the prescher of that day, with his white cravat and his saddle-bags, his clean-shaven face and pious countenance. How often have our youthful olbows ached as we blacked his boots on Saturdayovening, (it would have been terribly sinful to leave off the job until Sabbath morning), and how often has the critical paternal eye scanned the work us we stood on tiptoe to clean off the ministerial equine, for in those days the Methodist preacher liter ally "rode the circuit." How frequently have we listened in open-eyed wonder as some of the more aged ones recounted the stories of their travel in the Virginia backwoods, or related remanscences of Asbury and McKendree men of almost mythical character to our youthful ideas. How incongruous it seemed to our mexperienced judgment when the venerable Alfred Griffith, after the close of the evening meeting would, surrounded by the family and the younger preachers attending the quarterly meeting, relate story after story in his immitable way, convulsing every one with laughter, and then as the midnight hour grew near, in the midst of some general laugh and before anybody but himself could resolve his face into a proper degree of solomity, ejaculate in his deep voice, PLot us pray; Brother Kellay, you pray." It was not always, however, that such worldly laughter could be indulged in, and the regular visits of the circuit preacher were not characterized by any suck seasons of levity. Usually the youngsters were put through the meagre catechism tolerated by the Methodist church, and lectured upon the glories of free grace and the insufficiency of any sort of 'religion" which never found yout in shouts and amens. Thoroughly good and honest were those old-time preachers. Their daily walk and conversation, their habiliments, their very attitude on horseback bespoke their calling. They were The wance guard of the church, and right well did they blaze the way for those who were to come after them. Their successors may be just as zealous, and much more learned in the teachings of the schools, but there is a halo of glory about the memories of the old times, a sort of pious glamour, so to speak, that is not of this busy ago, but that brings back remembrances of a past whose glories can to be born in the last half of this century.

IT is intimated that there is a probability that the bequest of $240,000 left to De Panw University by the late Mr. De Panw, may yet be lost on account of the failure of the Indiana Methodists to raise $120,000 more, which was one of the conditions of the gift. The four Indiana conferences virtually obligated themselves to raise this amount. Two have already done their part, but the other two remain to be heard from. The time expires October 4.

THERE will be six state elections in November, all of which may show sums that will enable the student of the political situation to draw conclusions as regards the popular feeling at next year's Presidential contest. The states referred to are Iowa, Maryland, Massachusetts, New York, Ohio and Pennsylvania.

GOVERNOR FORAKER, of Ohio, declares that Mrs. President Cleveland dud deliberately snub and insult him and his wife at the recent Philadelphia Centennial reception. Per contra, Mrs. Cleveland rows that she didn't do any such thing. There is a very serious question of veracity here, and the word is standing still, waiting for "the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth."

ABOUT a year ago, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, the Grand Army of the Republic had 297,087 members. In the previous twelve months its members inased 25,643, To-day in all probability, it comprises fully 330,000 men. Its gains nbership in the past three months heve been greater, it is understood, than even the large average of the corresponding years. Much of this gain in power and influence, of course, is due to the abuse which ex-copperheads have heaped upon it. If these individuals could be induced to keep up their crusade, it would eventually have upon its rolls the ame of every veteran who is still alive. Even now it contains about one-quarter of the men who were notive members of it when the Democracy surrendered at

Assistant Attorney-General Maury Discusses the Appeal of the Anarchists.

A New Form of Petition for Executive Clemency for the Condemned

The Shent Millions Against the Noisy Thousands -- A Plea for Law and Justice.

Assistant Attorney-General Maurey Dis-WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.-Assistant At torney Cheral, Mauroy, when asked his narchists' case to the United States Supreme Court, yesterday, said it was no un-common thing for State cases to be taken to the Supreme Court on writs of error, the grounds for the application being the Interpretation of a statute or a question the subject as granted to him under the Constitution. In fact, these are the only grounds on which the case can come beutes, in express terms confers this power on the court. The question then was whother any Federal statute product any Foderal statute needed to be interpreted, or whether the rights of the condemned men had been violated and not fully protected as grant ed by the Constitution, or if the laws o Illinois under which they had been tried werein conflict with the Constitution. Concerning these points. Mr. Maurey conion, because the newspaper accour not set forth, with sufficient clearness, the issues on which the appeal would be based. If the writ of error were granted, because it was shown that some such point as he had mentioned was reviewable. The general management or conduct of the case could not be consid-

As an iliustration he cited a Virginia appeal, a very voluminous chancery case, where the only point involved, as far as the Supreme Court was concerned, was the interpretation of the word "fraud" in Bankruptcy act. Mr. Maurey was Spies' assertion that the State had placed ransacked his private drawers and there found a copy of the famous "Revenge" circular, and which figured so prominentv in the trial. Mr. Maurey's answer was evidence it could get, and that unless constitutional means it would affect the case. Spies might, if he liked, being an action for trespass or larcony against the detective who purloined the circular, and the court might decide that no trespass or larceny had been committed. If a Supreme Court nov-General of Illinois, representing the defendant in error, will submit a printed brief in support of the judgment of the probably be no argument before the court. The granting of the writ acts as a stay of execution, and if the Anarchists succeed in getting the writ and the Supreme Court illims the validity of the sentence, they

A New Form of Petition.

Chicago, Sept. 21.—The committee having in charge the circulation of a petition begging mercy for the condemned Anarchists have concluded that the mild form of prayer originally adopted will not moet the view of those who have "ad-vanced" ideas on the subject, and consider the condomned seven not as criminals, but as martyrs. To obtain the signatures of such the following has been adopted, and will be circulated in addition to the first designed potition. To His Excellency, Richard 1. Oglesby, Governor of the State of Illinois

The undersigned, having watched with grea The underlighed, miving vacced with a connection interest the progress of events in connection with and since the trial in Chicago of the so-called Anarchists, August Spies, Michael Schunb, Octan Neebe, Albert R. Parsons, Samuel Fiction, Adolph Fischer, Louis Lingg Samuel Fiction, Adolph Fischer, Louis Lings and George Engle, and believing that the scatterior against them was and is unwarranted by the evidence, extreme in its severity and induced by aview of the law never hitherto sanctioned by any well-considered precedent, and that the accused were not shown to have been guilty of the throwing or causing to be thrown the bomb at preciated, by those whose fortune it was to be born in the last half of this century. Let not the preachers of to-day forgot the noble pioneers of the church those godly men who laid broad and deep the foundations of a denomination which has come to be one of the greatest moral powers of the age.

The Silent Millions Against the Noisy

Thousands.

New York, Sept. 21.—In the course of a long editorial the Tribune says. "It is no cause for surprise that petitions for the pardon of the Anarchists are receiving many signatures in Chicago. There are always fools to sympathize with murderers, but who never give a thought to their the course of th victims. There are always weak-minded persons who sign any petition presented to them, whether it is to put a logue or a blockhead into an office or to let a criminal loose upon society. It may be that these petitions will recoive many thousand signatures It may even be that they will receive so many as to be mistaken by some for the expression of public sonti-ment. We shall all hope to be spaced any such exhibition of mandlin sentiment. But if it should come, Governor Oglesby would ind that he had in his hands the decision of an issue of National importance. These ion are not ordinary criminals. question raised here bears no relation to the considerations of expediency commonly involved in the laiden of male-factor. The unwise release of a murderor or a bunglar may have serious results, but the harm that would be done would after all, spend itself with in a narrow ch cle. But if these menshold be pardened or their suntences should be commuted-which would doubtless be only the firs step toward a pardon at some future day—the news would send a thrill of joy through every band of Anarchists in America and Europe. Every man who preaches assassination and destruction would be clated. In Eu rope it would be interpreted that in the great republic license and liberty were one and the same thing. It would be sale

The committee on nominations reported the following for the remainder of the ticket For Lieutenant Governor, Walter Cummings, of Pittsfield; for Secretary of State, John F. Murphy, of Lowell; for State, John F. Murphy, of Lowell; for Treasurer, Henry (Tatcher, of Yar nouth; for Attorney-General, John W Cook, of Springfield.

The report was received and the ticket inanimously carried The platform will congratulate the Democrats of the State on the wise administration of the affairs of the Nation by the present Chief Magistrate; on the equitable recognition of the rights of the people; the fostering of the credit of the country at home and abroad, and on the fact that the present Executive recognizes no North, no South, no East, no West, but discharges the duties of his exalted sta-tion in strict conformity to the constitution; pledging the unqualified support of offices by persons in sympathy with the administration; denouncing the retention in public office of any one who has shown himself an offensive partisan; expressing the belief that the power of Congress to tax people is limited to the requirements of the Government; denouncing the system that produces revenue beyond that extent as unwise; favoring a revision of the present unjust and oppressive tariff law; favors the release of the increasing and unnecosary surplus in the treasury; favors the application of the income derived by the Government from the interal revenue tax to the discharge of the burdens imposed on the people; approv-ing the acts of Congress forbidding the importation of contract labor; welcoming honest and industrious immigration; ex tonding the deepest sympathy to the advocates of home rule for Ireland; advocating an unrestricted ballot; denouncing the payment of poll tax as a qualification to vote as a disgrace; pledging the earnest efforts of the party to further the interests of the wage earner; approving of the law making "labor day" a legal holiday, and commending its general observance.

The resolutions were read by Hon. Ed-

Patrick McGuire, of Boston, indorsed the platform, and said he was glad to see the reference in it to office-holders. There had been much said about his differences with a certain Fedoral officer of Boston, but he did not think this a suitable place to refer to it. [Applause.] "To-day," he continued, "Boston is the citadel of the Democracy of New England. We are all subject to abuse, but all I have done has been intended in the interest of the party. This man is not the first that I have had a political contest with. If he had known anything, the fate of the others would suggest what his will be."

THE BLUE AND GRAY.

The Express and Mail Car Rifled and Army Men at Evansville, Ind .-a Large Amount of Money General Shackleford's Speech.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Sept. 21.—Fifteen thousand people visited Farragut camp yesterday, and at 4 p. m. General M. Shackleford delivered his address of welcome, concluding thus: "And henceforth as between ourselves, we 'shall learn wa no more.' Standing on this eminence, we to-day are made to real, the fulfillment laring train robbery occurred on the Texas of that remarkable prophecy contained in those eloquent words of the first in-augural address of the martyred Presiout from Benbrook Station, ten miles west of Fort Worth, when a tall, smooth-shaven, poorly dressed, sandy-haired man dent Lincoln, when deprecating the proposition to resort to war, he said: The mystic chords of memory stretching The mystic chords of memory stretching from every battle-field and every grave to every living heart and hearthstone all over this broad land, will yet swell the chorus of the Union when touched again, as they surely will be, by the better angels of our nature." That was before," which at once convinced Baker that the man was the leader of the gang an inspiration, and this vast assembly of the blue and the gray that we have here on this occasion, bespeaks the sentiments of fraternity and unity which pervades our whole Nation. And let us here to day identical place.

Baker said to the man: "How much did you fellows get in your last haul?"
The thief answered: "We are not the the blue and gray—with our hearts in our hands, and our hands in each others, covenant together that we will "keep the jewel of liberty in the family of freedom," and that we will hand it down to ou children with our united prayers to God, that it may be sacredly kept and trans-mitted, until it shall have reached the last generation of man on earth."

Miss Albion Fellows, of this city, read an original poem of some length entitled "The Blue and Gray" that won every heart in the vast assemblage.

The principal centers of attraction to isitors were the headquarters of the Crescent Club, of the Louisville & Nash-ville railway, and of the Mackey system of railroads. These were fitted up in or rannoaus. These were intred up in oriental luxuriance and are provided with every convenience for the comfort of guests.

The following organizations have been assigned to quarters in camps. Captain I. D. Wilson, of the Cantrell battery, Columbia, Tenn.: Captain Berry Burn Light Artillery, Nashville, Tenn.; Captain Captain Stevenson's Rockville (Ill.) Light Numerous G. A. R. posts from all over

Indiana have arrived and also a number of minor organizations of ex-Confederates.

Governor I. P. Gray and staff arrived last night and were feted by the people.
The utmost good order prevails and though every train adds to the thousands already here, no disturbances have oc-curred and the vigilance of the police has prevented theft. Governor Noves Wheless is also expected.

Trains run over the belt railway every five minutes to and from the camp and lifferent parts of the city.

Successful Test of Lieutenant Zalin ski's Dynamite Gun.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—An official test Licutenant Zalinski's dynamite gun was made yesterday at Fort Lafayette, in the presence of Secretary Whitney and representatives of the French, Spanish. Danish, Swedish, Norwegian and Japanese Governments. The target was an old eighty-ton schooner. It was buoyed, so so that it would not sink and become an obstruction in the channel, but when the tests were over there was not enough left of the vessel to obstruct anything. The fragments floated away in the tide The target was one mile from the gun The charges were fifty pounds of dynamite each. The first two cartridges fell a few feet short and sunk unexploded. The third struck under the schooner's stern, exploded and tore a great hole in her quarter. The fourth struck under the center of the schooner. The explosion lift-ed the whole vessel up, and she fell back shaken to pieces. Everything aft of her mast was reduced to fragments. The bow would have sunk if not supported by the buoys A fifth and sixth shot were fired, but went wide.

This closed the test. Lieutenant Ze linski was summoned to the secretary's boat and congratulated upon the succe of the trial. Another gun is being con-structed, which will carry a s ix hundred pound dynamite shell.

Frankfort's Plea.

Chicago, Sept 21 - Yesterday morning counsel for the Louisville, New Albany & Chicago railway appeared before the Inter-State Commerce Commission to answer charges of unjust discrimination made by David T. Allen and others of Frankfort, Ind. He laid down the proposition that there was no unjust discrimination as averred by the complainants in a charge of twenty-five cents a hundred for the transportation of grain from Frankfort, Ind, to New York, when the rate from In-dianapolis to New York is but twenty-three cents a hundred, albeit Frankfort is nearer to New York by forty-seven miles. He maintained that the two services were not "alike" and that they do not, therefore, properly come under section 2 of the Inter-State Commerce act that prohibits dis-crimination in price for "like" services. He also argued that there was no dis-crimination in this case, as all shippers from Frankfort to New York are charged twenty-five cents a hundred. Counsel for the Frankfort shippers argued that the suit was properly brought, be-cause the discrimination enabled Indiauapolis shippers to reap greater profits for their labors than Frankfort shippers, which difference is aimed at by the Inter State act. After some further argument the commission adjourned until to-day.

Joined the American Colony in Canada TOLEDO, O., Sept. 21 —Homer Over-meyer, western agent for the Eureka Huller Company, of Ashland, O., C. Aultman & Co., of Brockport, N. Y., and the Easterly; Harvester Co., of Michigan, has joined the American Colony in Canada. Several days ago Overmeyer sold a number of hullers belonging to the Eureka Company, collected what money he could on other machines, and has since been missy, however, as it was supposed he was on the road or at some fair exhibiting machines. Yesterday Mrs. Overmeyer received a letter from her husband in Canada, in which he confesses to being a defaulter to the amount of about $11,000. Representatives of the different firms are here investigating.

did you know where to stop?
"Oh, we found that out."

"No," replied the Doctor. "I find many more cases of defective sight; because people afflicted with sore eyes usually have them attended to in the first stage of the disease, whereas those troubled with defective vision often do not know that serious defects exist, and often do not have their eyes examined—thinking that either the eyes will improve of themselves, or that when they do commence wearing glasses they will always be obliged to do so; in both instances they are much mistaken, and their neglect of obtaining the proper assistance for their eyes has many times caused them to lose their sight." "Doctor, you find many students with poor sight?" "Indeed, quite a number. But I do not think that a third of the school children with defective sight come to consult me, chiefly because their parents believe that glasses are only made for old people. That this is an erroneous idea, you will undoubtedly understand when I tell you that 25 per cent of the students in Germany wear glasses, some on account of near-sight, but more to strengthen their eves after some have become weak."

Stapp's Chapel.

The 64th session of the Illinois Annua Conference of the Methodist Episcopa hurch convened in Stapp's Chapel this norning at half-past eight o'clock. Bishop Cyrus D. Foss announced that old familiar Conference hymn, "And are we yet alive and see each other's face?" Bishop Weaver, of the United Brethren church, was invited to make the opening prayer, after which one verse of "Jesus, Lover of My Soul" was sung. Bishop Foss read the 23d Psalm, after which two verses of "There is a fountain filled with blood" was sung by the great audience. The Bishop said: "We are about to celebrate the holy sacrament of the Lord's Supper." Bishop Fess expressed gratitude for the presence of Bishop Weaver, of Dayton, Ohio, who represents one of the great Methodist bodies, at least in doctrine. The Presiding Elders were invited to assist in the celebration of the Eucharist, which was administered to then and to Bishop Weaver by the presiding Bishop, after which Bishop Weaver assist ed in waiting on the nine Presiding Elders. The Communion service was most impressive, between four and five hundred persons having kneeled at the altar. While preparing for Conference work the congregation sang "All hail the power

Bishop Foss addressed the Conference in which he referred to his birth and home surroundings, his father being a plain Methodist circuit rider, who was superanuated at the age of 40, when he bought a little stony farm in York state. His father told his boys that if they would work on the farm and save their nickels and pennies they might get an education. Up to the age of 18 young Cyrus Foss was at every mourner's bench he ever saw and arose for prayers at every opportunity, as he was determined to be christian. The Bishop regards his early training and education as a preparation for the kind of work to which God and the church have called him. By his first address the bishop has won the hearts of the preachers and people, which is a strong point in controlling a large Conference, such as the Illinois is. Bishop Foss asked the prayers of the rethren that he might be directed in the most delicate work assigned to mortal man, that of making the appointments, by the aid of his nine advisors, viz: D.W. English, W. H. Webster, W. H. Wilder, T. A. Parker, W. H. Reed, P. Wood, J.

The case of Rev. Isaiah Villars, D. D., who was appointed to Beardstown one year ago, was brought up, he having refused to go to his appointment, as he had been wont to do for many years. Dr. Villars engaged in temperance work until he was called to the presidency of Mc-Kendree College, at Lebanon, Ill. The committee submitted the following report:

While we regard the action of Dr. Isaiah Villars as far from being justifiable, yet in view of all the mitagating circumstances, wedeen it in advisable to suspend him, because we believe in declining to accept his appointment he did not intend to entertain a spirit of real rebellion against the authority of the church.

Dr. Villars followed with remarks, with a slight reflection on the committee's report, but with words of commendation for McKendree and words of eulogy and love for the old Illinois Conference.

S. H. Whitlock reported Quincy district, which is not up to the others in patronizing the literature of the church, but great progress has been made. For but great progress has been made. of Chinamas, and all its branches as Chicago and St. Louis. The net profits of the Western Book Concern amounts $105,000, an increase of $35,000 over the previous year. The profits are divided among the western conferences, for the support of superannusted preachers, their widwows and orphans.

Dr. Cranston referred to the economical management of the business and urged the conference to see that the funds owing the concern should be garnered. He would not have the conference harbor a man who could pay but will not because of his extravagance. Methodists were urged to take the publications of the M. E. church. A center shot was made at the Methodist preachers who patronize independent publishing houses in procuring Sunday School literature. The point made was that no Methodist has a right to support a publication that has a right to support a publication that is not in harmony with Methodism. Dr Cranston was frequently applauded as he sandwiched something sarcastic and amusing between his masterstrokes, which fell with mighty power when the shoe fitted.

This conference received a draft to-day $504 book concern dividends. The amount of the Book Concern for the whole church is $22,000.

M. D. Hawes submitted a well-written report of the conference committee appointed to draft a constitution and bylaws of the Illinois Conference Historical Society. The report was received.

which then held high literary prominence and enjoyed a particularly sunny heyday of prospority. She also won considerable fame as a writer of short stories for the magazines of England and this country.

She married abroad during our civil var, but returned to this country soon after the nided and has remained here ever since. She lived in Washington, writing stories and corresponding for several journals. At length she became associate editor of Don Pratt's paper, The Capital, so distinguished at that There is no denying the fact that Dr. Jones' Red Clover Tonic is the most successful blood purifier ever put on the market. Its wonderful cures in all stomach, kidney and liver troubles has brought out many imitations. It restores debilitied payer tiesnes, restoring the force paper, the Capital, so distinguished at that time as the wittiest and most speak-your-mind journal in existence. Many of the vigorous editorials which made it famous were written by Celia Logan, though, of course, that fact was only known within The Capital office, and to a few outsiders who vere closely connected with the career of The Capital. As is the case of hundreds of other journalistic writers, it has been her fortune to do much of her best work in this imper-sonal way, and so lose the credit of what yould have made her famous. In addition to her original writing she has done much excellent work as a translator from the French and Italian. Currously enough, her first efforts in that field were enough, ner mist enough in that near were made in converting American war news from English into Latin. She hved in Milan, Italy, during our late war. The facilities of the Milanese press for obtaining American war news were then much below what was demanded by the importance of the occasion. Miss Logan was known as one of the literati, and as it was understood that she regularly received nows from her own country concerning the struggle which then engrossed the attention of the civilized world, the direction of the civilized world, the direction of the struggle which then engrossed the attention of the civilized world, the direction of the struggle world at the form tors of the Milaneso press appealed to her for and Not then being sufficiently acquainted with Italian to translate into that language, and English being a sented book to Milanese journalists, a compromise suggested by her was tried and proved to be a happy solution of the difficulty. She first put the American war news into Latin and then the journalists turned the Latin into Italian

Another important branch of Miss Logan's Another important blanch of all standard interary work has been the rewriting, adapting and translating of plays. As in the case of so much of her editorial work, the eledit of what she has done in this direction has gone to others, who have won fame and fortune by her combined literary and dramatic tal ent One of her works, the drama, "An American Marriage," has been cannon the successful in winning both the plaudits of the public and the approbation of the press. Her intimate relations with the stage have given her unusual advantages for critical judgment ner musical advantages for extract integrants upon it and literary work pertaining to it. She contributed to The Sunday Dispatch a few years ago a long series of arties under the title, "these Our Actors," which attacted much Lavorable comment.
